

Faster, better, stronger, smarter

We're creating a better way

andros is radically changing the business of provider network management with innovative technology and business process optimization.

andros has:

- Built the a* platform, the healthcare industry's largest provider data resource
- Created a holistic life-cycle approach to provider network management
- Accelerated timelines and reduced costs with analytics, automation, and workflows

Built for speed and accuracy

The a* platform aggregates provider data and verifies it across multiple sources, then uses that data to build deep identity graphs on providers and facilities alike. Advanced algorithms link them in a growing ecosystem of data-on-demand for credentialing, monitoring, and compliance.

This powerful system of data and intelligence eliminates the waste that plagues outdated manual approaches to provider network management.

The future has arrived androsCredentialing* uses the 7.2 million provider identity graphs in our a* platform to accelerate credentialing processes with cloud-based, automated primary source verifications. With turnaround times measured in days, not months, you won't miss filing deadlines or incur cost overruns.

Our credentialing process doesn't stop at primary source verification. Our ability to credential, monitor, and recredential drastically reduces risk and compliance concerns, making costly audits a thing of the past.

Lower overhead by eliminating manual data management

Scale up rapidly with nearly unlimited credentialing capacity

Focus on strategy and growth, not oversight and reporting

Harnessing the power of data androsCompass* uses our a* platform, data intelligence, and industry-leading insights to identify the fastest path to adequacy when building your network. Our multi-channel approach employs lower-cost, lower-touch recruiting and contracting approaches where appropriate and professional recruiters when necessary.

Each network we build surfaces more provider data for the a* platform, improving its value to all clients.

Assess markets and identify favorable opportunities for new networks

Enter markets faster with streamlined recruitment and contracting

Make informed go/no go decisions with real-time status reporting
